

CATHOLIC MIGRATION SERVICES IS ACCEPTING APPLICATIONS FOR SUMMER 2014 LEGAL INTERNSHIPS

Catholic Migration Services (CMS) is a not-for-profit organization providing immigration, housing, and employment legal services to low-income immigrants in Brooklyn and Queens, regardless of religion, nationality or immigration status. CMS has provided high quality immigration legal services for over 40 years, while its housing and employment practice areas are more recent responses to the changing needs of the community. CMS engages in direct legal representation, community organizing and public education to help counteract immigrants' special vulnerability to exploitation. For more information on CMS, please visit our website at www.catholicmigration.org

CMS is currently accepting applications from first and second year law students for summer legal internships in the following three program areas: immigration legal services (affirmative filings and removal defense), immigrant tenant advocacy (housing legal services), and immigrant workers' rights (employment legal services). Accepted applicants will work exclusively in one program area for the duration of their internships. All internships are unpaid, and students are encouraged to seek summer public interest funding and/or to make arrangements with their law schools for work-study stipends or course credit. See below for information specific to each program area internship.

HOW TO APPLY

Applications will be accepted on a rolling basis. Applicants should send a cover letter, resume, two references, and legal writing sample (approximately 10 pages) to rmccreanor@catholicmigration.org, with one of the following subject lines:

Summer 2014 Internship Application – Immigration Legal Services

Summer 2014 Internship Application – Immigrant Workers' Rights

Summer 2014 Internship Application – Immigrant Tenant Advocacy

You will receive an automatic reply acknowledging receipt of your application.

- IMMIGRATION LEGAL SERVICES PROGRAM

The Immigration Legal Services Program represents immigrants before US Citizenship and Immigration Service and Executive Office for Immigration Review. We assist clients with filing various affirmative applications such as family based petitions; naturalization applications; VAWA; DACA; U Visas; and Asylum applications. We also represent clients who are facing deportation in immigration court.

INTERNSHIP OVERVIEW

Legal interns with the Immigration Legal Services Program will have the opportunity to participate in all aspects of litigation. The internship position is full-time (35 hours/week) and requires a minimum 8 week commitment.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Interns will work closely with our immigration attorneys and B.I.A. accredited counselors to gain hands-on experience at all stages of immigration court litigation and processing of affirmative immigration applications. Additionally, interns will help conduct the bi-monthly immigration legal clinics.

DESIRED EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS

The legal internships are open to rising 2L's/3L's who possess the following:

- Excellent research, writing, and communication skills
- Proficiency in English and Spanish and/or Haitian Creole (strongly preferred)
- A demonstrated interest in and commitment to public interest work and immigration law.

• THE IMMIGRANT WORKERS' RIGHTS PROGRAM

The Immigrant Workers' Rights Program was founded in 2009 to empower immigrant workers to assert their rights under the law. In collaboration with federal, state, and local government agencies, and the consulates of several Latin American nations, CMS operates Línea Laboral, a bilingual hotline that workers can call to report workplace abuses, file complaints, and learn about their rights. CMS provides free representation to low-wage workers in administrative proceedings, as well as in litigation in state and federal court.

INTERNSHIP OVERVIEW

Legal interns with the Immigrant Workers' Rights Program will have the opportunity to participate in all aspects of litigation and advocacy. The internship position is full-time (35 hours/week) and requires a minimum 8 week commitment.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Interns will work closely with a staff attorney and gain hands-on experience at all stages of the administrative complaint and civil litigation process, including:

- Interviewing clients and conducting intakes
- Conducting legal research
- Drafting memoranda, briefs, complaints, and other legal papers

DESIRED EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS

The legal internships are open to first and second year law students who possess the following:

- Excellent research, writing, and communication skills
- Proficiency in English and Spanish (strongly preferred)
- A demonstrated interest in and commitment to civil rights, especially immigrants' rights and workers' rights.

• THE IMMIGRANT TENANT ADVOCACY PROGRAM

Since 2005, the Immigrant Tenant Advocacy Program (ITAP) has provided free legal services, education, and advocacy to newcomers in Queens and Brooklyn who suffer from substandard housing conditions and related exploitation. Through traditional lawyering, community organizing, leadership formation and public advocacy, attorneys not only represent tenants in court but work to educate, organize and empower immigrant tenants.

INTERNSHIP OVERVIEW

Legal interns with the Immigrant Tenant Advocacy Program will have the opportunity to participate in all aspects of litigation, organizing, and advocacy. The internship position is full-time (35 hours/week) and requires a minimum 8 week commitment.

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Interns will work closely with the housing project coordinator and gain hands-on experience at all stages of housing court litigation and complaints before the state housing administrative agency. Interns will also work with the office's community organizers helping to further the office's community outreach efforts. Additionally, interns will help conduct the bi-monthly walk-in housing legal clinics.

DESIRED EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS

The legal internships are open to rising 2L's and 3L's who possess the following:

- Excellent research, writing, and communication skills
- Proficiency in English and Spanish (strongly preferred)
- A demonstrated interest in and commitment to public interest, community organizing, and housing law.